

Stomach Sufferers Squander Millions

In Search of Relief.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Free.
The world is full of disordered stomachs and 90 percent of the money spent upon physicians and drugs goes in an attempt to cure the stomach.

People are made to believe that in order to gain health they must doctor their stomachs and use cathartics. So the doctor gets his fee for the stomach treatment and the druggist for the physic, until the savings of a life time are exhausted and yet no cure.

Let's be reasonable.
The sick stomach is in every case the result of over-eating, hurried mastication and improper choice of foods. The mucous lining all the way down the food tract loses its sensitiveness, and when food is forced down the muscles fail to respond. They do not churn the food as they should. The glands no longer drive out gastric juice to dissolve the food and render it capable of assimilation. The man has become a dyspeptic.

There is one sure way and only one to bring positive relief. Put into the stomach of yours the very elements that it lacks to get that food into liquid form. It takes pepsin, diastase, golden seal and other ferments to accomplish this. The healthy stomach contains these elements. The dyspeptic stomach lacks part or all of them. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is made up of just what the dyspeptic stomach lacks—nature's digestive elements.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a medicine, not a drug, not a cathartic. They do not cure anybody of anything but Dyspepsia and Indigestion and such ailments as arise from poorly digested food.

While they digest the food the stomach recuperates. The mucous membrane is coming out of its stupor, the gastric juice is coming to the surface, the muscles are regaining their power. Every organ of the body takes on new life, the skin gains color, and the eyes are no longer tinged with yellow. You live.

Why doctor and why drug yourself? Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will take care of your food while Nature cures you.

Try a box at your druggist's, 50 cents. Or, if you prefer a free trial package before buying, send your name and address today. F. A. Stuart Co., 159 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

AUCTION SALES TO SAVE WOOL GROWER

Idaho Man Appeals to the Growers to Inaugurate the Method.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 6.—Samuel Ballantyne, secretary of the Idaho Wool Growers' association, speaking before the National Wool Growers' convention today, made a strong plea for the inauguration in this country of the auction sale system of disposing of the growers' output, which he said would break the wool dealers' combine and give the manufacturer an independent market, purchasing his wool on competitive basis.

Mr. Ballantyne denied as utterly unfounded and absurd the charge that the National wool warehouse is a gigantic combine.

"When we reflect that the wool clip of this country aggregates in value over $300,000,000," he said, "and that it is sold without any knowledge of its market value to the growers and must first pass through the hands of the speculator before reaching the manufacturer, I am constrained to say, gentlemen, that such a system is a reflection on the intelligence of the men engaged in the industry."

"But coming right to the point, as to whether or not it would be feasible to sell wool in this country by auction sales, the question arises—are we ready for it? I am of the opinion that if the growers themselves are ready for it, the time is ripe."

"It now remains to inquire why such a system cannot be started in this country. In the first place, the manufacturer can't start it, because the wool merchant won't start it, because they don't want it, the majority of the sheep men would like to start it, but want a few of their brother sheep men to start it first. If the wool merchant, the sheep man and the importer of wool, we would then be started on the highway of success."

"In this western country there are over 25,000,000 sheep, producing a wool output of over 200,000,000 pounds annually. An assessment of 1 cent per pound on this wool would raise $2,000,000—money enough, easily, to build all the warehouses we would ever use in this country very nicely."

"But in starting this proposition why should it be necessary for the sheepman to own their own warehouses? Why not go to Boston and Philadelphia and rent their warehouses, let each grower pay the actual expense of storing, grading and the selling of his clip."

The output of wool in the United States will average over 200,000,000 pounds annually. From the best information obtainable (which is by no means accurate) the wool dealers make an average annual profit of 2 cents per pound on these wools. At this very low estimate, which I think is conservative, their profits are $4,000,000 per year. In addition to this, it costs them over a million dollars a year to carry this amount of wool through their agents.

"This great loss to our industry every year is far-reaching in its effect. The wool speculator hangs his head about his neck. It matters not whether our business is prosperous or in a state of depression, they exact the one pound of flesh, as off as our sheep are shorn."

"The psychological moment has arrived for the auction sales of wool in this country."

INDIAN CHIEFS TO GO TO WASHINGTON

Tularosa Property Worth $11,000 Changes Hands.

Woodmen Install Officers.

Tularosa, N. M., Jan. 6.—Jas. A. Carroll, superintendent of Indian schools at Mesquero, has gone to Washington City, taking with him Mesquero Apache Indian chiefs, Peto, Sans Puer and Magoosh. The chiefs are going to visit "Great White Father," who is the only one of the three who has been to Washington, and that was many years ago, when he visited the late president James A. Garfield. Capt. Samuel F. Miller goes with the party as interpreter.

This country has just experienced the coldest weather on record. United States weather observer L. L. Fairless reports three degrees above zero, which is one degree less than the previous low record. Mr. Carroll reported three degrees below at Mesquero.

Sanders and party, are on the Tularosa-La Luz road, locating culverts and fills. The grading gang is getting together preparatory to starting the work as soon as it is some warmer.

Grape Fruit The Only Novelty In The Green Goods Line Here

Meats Remain Firm and Unchanged, But Oats, Due to a Short Supply, Are Shift.

MIDWINTER is bringing few changes in prices or variety for the housekeeper. The only novelty of the week is the arrival of grape fruit, that tart, juicy lemon-orange which is equally good at breakfast or after dinner. There are two varieties in the El Paso market, the California kind, which sells for 10 cents each or three for 25 cents, or Cuban fruit, which is sold from 10 to 15 cents without reduction.

Meats remain the same, and there is no tendency for immediate change. Of the feed prices there is no change, but a widespread tendency of oats, doubtless will bring a change in price before many days. The oats yield is short.

CARNEGIE FINDS NEW PEACE HYMN

He Prefers It to America and It Is Sung to Same Tune.

New York, Jan. 6.—Andrew Carnegie has found a hymn of international peace that he prefers to "America." The meter is the same, but although he prefers the new words, he does not urge them as a substitute.

Several thousand copies of the hymn were distributed yesterday by Mr. Carnegie among those interested in the peace movement. The hymn was written by professor George Huntington, librarian at Carleton college, who retired several years ago on a pension from the Carnegie foundation. Following are the lines:

"Two empires by the sea,
Two nations great and free,
One anthem rise,
One race of ancient fame,
One tongue, one God we claim,
God whose glorious name
We love and praise."

"What deeds our fathers wrought,
What battles we have fought,
Let fame record,
Now vengeful passion cease,
Come victories of peace;
Nor hate, nor pride's caprice,
Unsheath the sword."

"Though deep the sea, and wide
Twix realm and realm, its tide
Blinds strand to strand,
So be the swift between,
Gray coats and islands green,
With bonds of peace serene,
And friendship spanned."

"Now may the God above,
Guard the dear land we love
Both east and west,
Let love move forward slow,
As peaceful ages go,
And strength yet stronger grow,
Blessing and blest."

GREENLEE COUNTY ARIZONA INSTALLED

Grand Jury to Investigate Charges of Poisoning of Horses at Clifton.

Clifton, Ariz., Jan. 6.—The coming of the new year witnessed the launching of the new county of Greenlee in Arizona. It was accompanied by very little demonstration, the new officials, who were elected in November, spending the first day in arranging bonds and getting settled in their new offices.

The courthouse site has not been selected, but will probably be decided upon at the first meeting of the supervisors, as the business people of Clifton have guaranteed a site free to the county, the location to be selected by the supervisors. The county will have no trouble in securing temporary headquarters as there are several buildings in Clifton available for such purpose.

The first case for the grand jury will be that of A. J. Boutwell and Luke Butler who were bound over to justice on a felony charge of poisoning dumb animals.

Douthett and Butler came to Clifton about Christmas from the lower valley where they were employed as expert veterinary surgeons. After they had visited several livery and transfer stables, the managers noticed that a number of their horses were dying for service owing to a swelling in the throat. An investigation showed that the animals were suffering from a hyperemic infection of some poison.

Charges were brought against the two veterinarians and at the preliminary hearing before Justice Mader evidence was introduced by several witnesses that led to their being bound over to the grand jury.

The local lodge of Owls has installed the following officers for the ensuing year: A. W. Snyder, president; E. E. P. Ingle, vice president; Harry Temple, invocator; Charles Alexander, secretary; Anton Trojanovich, treasurer; C. McLaughlin, warden; John Toy, picket; F. M. Rolando, sentinel; B. E. Crawford, E. L. Higdon and M. R. Field, trustees. The next was organized August 27, 1910 and has a membership of 309.

MORE LIGHTS TO STATION LIKELY

Many Property Owners on San Francisco Favor Light Plan.

Two men with a tape line may mean goose-neck lights the full length of San Francisco street from Pioneer place to the union station. Measurements were being made Wednesday morning and estimates prepared to be submitted to the property owners along the union station thoroughfare. A number of property owners have already consented to the installation of the lights and it is expected to sign up the entire north side of the street from The Herald building to the Reckhart building at once.

An effort will then be made to have the Union Station company install the lights on the lower end of the street. W. G. Wals, H. B. Stevens and other property owners on the San Francisco street will also contract for the street lighting, which will form a double row of overhanging arcs from the plaza to the station.

Station street, from Mills street to San Antonio, will also be lighted with goose necks as soon as the new Callahan building is completed.

BANKER ROBIN DENIES PARENTS

company and Hudson and Long Island Tract Co. company.

Are His Parents Found?
"What's the matter with you anyway? What do you think you're trying to do?" asked Robin, of a gray headed couple, who say they are his parents. Annoyed, ill at ease, by turns smiling and scowling, he refused to have anything to do with them, or even admit that his parents were in this country. In his denials, his sister, Dr. Louise Rabinovitch, who has been constantly beside him, took a similar firm stand.

A Brooklyn newspaper reporter found an humble old pair named Rabinovitch, who thought Robin might be their son. Detectives brought them to the criminal courts building and questioned them about their family history and then arranged to have them meet Robin.

"No," he said, "I don't want to see them, and nobody can make me. They're nothing to me."
